

Boehling Takes Williams' Base Running Big Factor in Win Over Indians

"Rippy's" Sensational Work on Paths and Timely Clouting Cleveland's Downfall—Joe Boehling Shows Form, Nationals Winning, 4 to 2.

Cleveland, Ohio, July 16.—Able base running by the agile Alva Williams, slick stoppawing by Joe Boehling and timely cannoning by Griff's troops, put the Bee on Cleveland's Indians, 4 to 2, before 12,000 air-cooled constituents in the combat here today.

Displaying marvellous daring, the venerable "Rip" twice started from first base after inaugurating rallies by singling, and both times he scored.

In his initial trial in the second he reached third, disabled his ankle in the sprint ahead of Jamieson's smash which followed a hit and run sign. Though in great pain Williams headed a double steal and scored when Wamby committed a boner by neglecting to return Daly's throw.

Again in the fourth "Rippy" singled and lumbered uncertainly around the path, scoring the winning marker when Shanks doubled. Stanley Coveleskie hurled the route against Boehling and was cleaned for ten hits, including McBride's triple and a double by Shanks. The Indians collected nine safeties off Blond Joe, who also surrendered a double and triple.

Indians Score.

One Redskin stamped the counting dock in the first before Boehling got his southpaw foul-stuff working true to form.

A well-directed assault in the first threatened to spell Boehling's removal in favor of Shaw, but Joe settled and was considerable of a pitcher during the ensuing innings.

Sparkling team work by Williams and Boehling nipped Graney in the first, "Rip" lurching to his right with the grace of a baby hippo to spear Jack's grounder and pegged to Boehling.

Trouble then beset Joe. Wamby beat out a bunt to the latter and raced to third, when Speaker singled on the hit and run. Roth's prodigious sacrifice fly apprehended by Milan in remote center, enabled Wamby to register. Then Speaker sliced to second, only to be marooned when Foster threw out Gandil.

Nationals Tally Traced.

Griff's sprightly young men braced in the second and, aided by Wamby's four paces, rushed over two runs. "Rippy" started the rumpus, singling to center. He tripped fump-like to third on a hit and run, with Jamieson, who slugged safely to right, then Speaker had grabbed Shanks' fly.

In his mad flight "Rippy" sprung a ligament in his right leg and pulled up lame, but despite his injury—and the old "Rascal" really was hurt—he and Jamieson perpetrated a double steal as Henry fanned. Daly pegged to Wamby, who held the ball as Williams limped gamely in from third. McBride's triple over Graney's knob tailed Jamieson. Boehling whiffed.

Hurdling the thrills third, the Griff-men added another marker in the fourth on Williams' single and a double by Shanks. The latter took third on Jamieson's infield tap. Shanks retired on the route home as Henry fanned to Turner. McBride lofted to Graney.

Henry Checks Indians.

One down in the Indians' half, Roth and Gandil singled, but a fast play by Boehling and Williams eliminated Chapman. Henry, after kicking Turner's punt, grabbed the vagrant hit, raced to the plate and tagged Roth for the third out.

A swell catch by Roth got Boehling in the fifth, then Moeller beat out a bunt to Turner and took second on a balk. Infield plays got Foster and Milan.

The Nationals right center, who opened the Indians' half, and Tommy tallied on Coveleskie's smash past first. Graney skied to Foster and Wamby singled off Shanks' shin, but was forced by Speaker, who left stealing.

The Nationals compiled their fourth score in the eighth. Milan walked and Williams sacrificed to Coveleskie, unassisted.

Ben Pressler Tells Inside Facts of Baltimore Battle

By RODGER H. PIPPEN.

Baltimore, Md., July 16.—If Jack Dillon and Joe Levinsky can produce papers showing where they were guaranteed a single cent to fight before the Oriole Boxing Club at Oriole Park, they can have me and feed my body to the sharks which are scaring the bathers along the Jersey coast.

Suffering from a nervous breakdown as a result of the fiasco, and shivering with the temperature around 50, Ben Pressler, misbegotten boxer, club boss, who dreamed golden dreams of fights and fight fans clamoring to get in, made the above statement while tossing restlessly about in the bed of his home, on West Franklin street.

"Dillon and Levinsky," excitedly continued Pressler, "came here to fight on the agreement that Dillon was to get the first $5,000 which came in the gate, and Levinsky the next $5,000. If the gate receipts were over $10,000, we were to get more. They signed no papers calling for any stipulated sum, and as the entire gate receipts were only $2,300, of course Dillon couldn't get $5,000 and Levinsky couldn't get $5,000."

"When I found that the receipts were so small, I offered to divide $2,500 between the heavyweights. They agreed to take this, but their managers almost broke up the party by arguing as to how it should be split. Manager McGowan, who demanded five-sevenths, or about $1,800, which was the same ratio under which they would have divided if there had been $7,000 or over in the house. Dan Moran, acting for the other side, refused to let his fighter go on unless he received at least $1,000. We finally settled the argument by giving Dillon $1,500 and Levinsky $1,000."

"As to the preliminary boys not being paid, there is nothing to that. I turned $150 over to Sammy Harris, with the understanding that he pay off all these fighters taking part in the opening bouts."

"Sammy Harris, former manager of Kid Williams, backed up Pressler in this statement, and added that Pressler had sent him an additional $25 to turn over to Gusie Lewis, of Philadelphia, who six weeks ago had been hired by Pressler as a main ticket taker, and received nothing for his services. Over the phone Pressler declared McGowan should collect from Bill Dunn, in charge of Oriole Park, and said all his help had been paid, according to the contract he drew up with Pressler, and that Meyer was a special man hired by Pressler himself."

"Bill Meyer, well-known doorkeeper at the Palace, also had a grievance. He claimed to have been hired by Pressler as main ticket taker, and received nothing for his services. Over the phone Pressler declared McGowan should collect from Bill Dunn, in charge of Oriole Park, and said all his help had been paid, according to the contract he drew up with Pressler, and that Meyer was a special man hired by Pressler himself."

"As an aftermath of the fight, the marshal of police's office in the courthouse was crowded this morning with fighters, ticket takers, etc., claiming they hadn't been paid for their services. Jacob Besterman, claiming to be the father of Lewis, was around asking Lieut. Leveton, of the Central district, to issue him a warrant for Ben Pressler because the latter hadn't paid his boy the sum agreed upon to fight Bergen. Besterman was informed that his case was one for the civil courts."

"To Coach Williams Eleven.

New York, July 16.—Joe Brooks, former Colgate University star and one of the greatest tacklers who wore the maroon, will be head coach of the Easthampton College eleven next fall.

He formerly played Williams' team and was assistant coach last year."

Cardinals and Sox Close in First Games

Von Herbulis Pitches Clarendon to Victory While Lefty White Stops Manager Payne's Team.

STANDING OF THE CLUBS.

Eagles	1	0	1.000
Cardinals	0	1	.000
White Sox	0	1	.000

The Alexandria County Athletic Association team defeated the Cardinal Athletic Club, of Alexandria, on the Clarendon grounds by 6 to 1, while the Alexandria Eagles were defeating the White Sox, of Alexandria, on the Union Station grounds in Alexandria, Va., by a 4-to-3 score. These were the first games of the series for the championship of Northern Virginia.

In the game at Clarendon Von Herbulis, for the home team, pitched a masterly game, as he held the visitors hitless until the eighth, when two safe blows netted the long tailed score. In the Eagle-White Sox game, Lefty White set his opponents down with six hits, and the Eagles came from behind and won by scoring five tallies in the fifth inning. The scores:
